Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 24, 25, 27-32, and 34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Barnett (U.S. Patent 6,772,157) in view of Maier (U.S. Patent 5,625,815).

Regarding Claim 24,

Barnett discloses in a computer system that includes items stored in at least one volume being divided into at least one security zone, each of the at least one security zone being defined as a grouping of items having common security rules, each item residing in a security zone from among the at least one security zone, each security zone having one or more principals with administrative rights, a method of delegating administrative rights to other principals for first items included in a main security zone included in the at least one security zone, comprising:

An act of identifying first items and other items residing in a main security zone within a volume comprising a plurality of security zones (Column 6, lines 13-52; and Column 8, lines 8-34);

An act of splitting the main security zone into a first security zone and a remaining main security zone, the one or more main principals retaining administrative rights for the first security zone and the remaining main security zone, the first security zone including the first items and the remaining main security zone including only the other items from the main security zone not included in the first items (Column 6, lines 13-52; and Column 8, lines 8-34), and

An act of specifying that one or more first principals also have administrative rights to the first security zone containing the first items (Column 6, lines 13-52; and Column 8, lines 8-34);

But may not explicitly disclose that the zones are non-overlapping.

Maier, however, discloses that the first non-overlapping security zone and the remaining non-overlapping main security zone do not overlap with any of the plurality of other non-overlapping security zones included in the volume, and that the splitting is restricted in such a way as to prevent overlapping between security zones and such that none of the first items and other items from the main non-overlapping security zone are shared when the main non-overlapping security zone is split wherein the security zones thereby have a dynamic configurable granularity of items having common security rules (Abstract; Column 2, lines 24-33; Column 5, line 62 to Column 6, line 18; and Column 9, line 12 to Column 10, line 67). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicant's invention to incorporate the partition restructuring system of Maier into the delegated administration system of Barnett in order to allow the system to restructure and reconfigure the splits or partitions of a data storage system (e.g. database) in an efficient manner whenever the need arises, thereby allowing the system to dynamically change how and where data is stored and managed.

Regarding Claim 34,

Claim 34 is a computer program product claim that corresponds to method claim 24 and is rejected for the same reasons.

Regarding Claim 25,

Barnett as modified by Maier discloses the method of claim 24, in addition, Barnett discloses that specifying the one or more first principals is performed by the one or more main principals (Column 6, lines 13-52).

Regarding Claim 27,

Barnett as modified by Maier discloses the method of claim 24, in addition, Barnett discloses the administrative rights being security rights (Column 6, lines 13-52; and Column 8, lines 8-34).

Regarding Claim 28,

Barnett as modified by Maier discloses the method of claim 24, in addition, Barnett discloses the administrative rights being auditing rights (Column 6, lines 13-52; and Column 8, lines 8-34).

Regarding Claim 29,

Barnett as modified by Maier discloses the method of claim 24, in addition, Barnett discloses specifying security rules for the first security zone after the act of splitting (Column 6, lines 13-52; and Column 8, lines 8-34); and Maier discloses that the zones are non-overlapping (Abstract; Column 2, lines 24-33; Column 5, line 62 to Column 6, line 18; and Column 9, line 12 to Column 10, line 67).

Regarding Claim 30,

Barnett as modified by Maier discloses the method of claim 24, in addition, Barnett discloses specifying security rules for the first security zone by defaulting the security rules that were from the main security zone prior to the act of splitting (Column 5, line 35 to Column 6, line 65); and Maier discloses that the zones are non-overlapping (Abstract; Column 2, lines 24-33; Column 5, line 62 to Column 6, line 18; and Column 9, line 12 to Column 10, line 67).

Regarding Claim 31,

Barnett as modified by Maier discloses the method of claim 24, in addition, Barnett discloses recombining the first security zone and the remaining main security zone (Column 6, lines 53-65; and Column 12, line 45 to Column 13, line 8); and Maier discloses that the zones are non-overlapping (Abstract; Column 2, lines 24-33; Column 5, line 62 to Column 6, line 18; and Column 9, line 12 to Column 10, line 67).

Regarding Claim 32,

Barnett as modified by Maier discloses the method of claim 24, in addition, Barnett discloses a subsequent remaining main security zone, the subsequent remaining main security zone formed from splitting the remaining main security zone, wherein the administrative principals of the subsequent remaining main security zone are the administrative principals in the main security zone, comprising an act of recombining the first security zone and the subsequent remaining main security zone (Column 6, lines 53-65; and Column 12, line 45 to Column 13, line 8); and Maier discloses that the zones are non-overlapping (Abstract; Column 2, lines 24-33; Column 5, line 62 to Column 6, line 18; and Column 9, line 12 to Column 10, line 67).

3. Claim 26 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Barnett in view of Maier, further in view of Anglin (U.S. Patent Application Publication 2004/0199521).

Barnett as modified by Maier may not explicitly disclose labeling the first items with a zone enumeration corresponding to the first zone.

Anglin, however discloses labeling the first items with a security zone enumeration corresponding to the first non-overlapping security zone (Paragraphs 19, 24, and 25). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicant's invention to incorporate the group management system of Anglin into the delegated administration system of Barnett as modified by Maier in order to explicitly associate items with their appropriate zone, as well as to associate a zone entry with all of the items that belong to that zone, thereby increasing ease of viewing, management, and use of the system.
